

Dr. Allison Patton, BSc, MBA, ND

Dr. Patton received her Honors Bachelor of Science Degree in Biochemistry and Psychology from the University of Victoria. She then graduated from the Canadian College of Naturopathic Medicine and became licensed as a Naturopathic Physician. Upon graduation, she was awarded the John Plante Scholarship for demonstrating outstanding leadership.

She is Board certified in Chelation and Intravenous Therapies (including Intravenous Vitamin C) and acupuncture. Dr. Patton has completed additional training and certification in Bowen Therapy and Facial Rejuvenation Acupuncture. Dr. Patton is a member of the British Columbia Naturopathic Association and the College of Naturopathic Physicians of British Columbia. She is also a First Line Therapy Lifestyle Consultant and a contributor to the Natural Health Education Journal. In 2007 she is planning to become a certified Menopause Consultant.

Dr. Patton views the relationship with her patients as sacred and essential to the healing process. She uses her tools of assessment and diagnosis along with her listening skills to determine what specific therapies are most indicated for the patient. She has a special interest in Infertility, Salivary Hormone testing and Balancing, Peri-Menopause and Menopause, Osteoporosis management, Adrenal Fatigue, Vaccination Consultations, Pediatrics and Weight Loss Programs. Conditions that she has addressed to name a few are Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome, Infertility, Pregnancy Health issues, Candida overgrowth, ADHD, Autism, Frequent colds and Infections and Weight Management.

